POPULAR LOCATIONS

	Location	Description
1	Upper Truckee River	The Upper Truckee is fed from the waters of Meiss Country south of Highway 89. Fishing is good in the deep pools during the early part of fishing season. All Tributaries to Lake Tahoe are Closed to all fishing from Oct. 1st – June 30th
2	Echo Lakes	Just a short drive off of Highway 50, you can try both boat and shore fishing here. Shore fishing is usually good from the dam. Please respect the rights of private property and homeowners around the lake.
3	Sawmill Pond (For the kids)	A stocked pond for children 15 years of age and under. Adults are allowed to help children fish but are not allowed to fish themselves. The pond is located 1 mile south of South Lake Tahoe along Lake Tahoe Boulevard. Should be 14 years of age and younger. Located 2.5 miles from the "Y" on Lake Tahoe Blvd.
4	Fallen Leaf Lake	The best fishing is from a boat, but occasionally fish can be taken from the shore with a good cast. The lake is a short walk from Fallen Leaf Lake Road or Fallen Leaf Campground. Fishing within 250 feet of the dam is illegal.
5	Lake Tahoe	The best fishing is in deep water from a boat. For shore fishing, try places where the shoreline drops off quickly such as Rubicon Point on the west shore or Cave Rock on the east shore. A day use fee is charged at both of these areas. Fishing is closed in the lake within 300 feet of its tributaries and upstream to the first lake from October 1 through June 30. The rest of the year the entire lake is open.

- 6 Truckee River
Lake Tahoe's only outlet, the Truckee starts its journey from Lake Tahoe's dam at Tahoe City and continues along Highway 89 to the town of Truckee. Fishing is closed year around from the dam to 1,000 feet downstream. Certain other sections of the Truckee are closed year around. Check the fishing regulations for specific information.
- 7 Carson River, West Fork
Flowing through Hope, Faith and Charity Valleys, this portion of the river receives considerable use. It is located south of Lake Tahoe along Highway 88 and also flows along Blue Lakes Road.
- 8 Carson River, East Fork
Closed to all fishing above Carson Falls. From Hangman's Bridge (south of Markleeville) downstream to the Nevada state line, there is a minimum size limit of 14 inches and you must use artificial lures with single barbless hooks. Below Hangman's Bridge is now zero limit (catch & release only) Artificial lures or flies with barbless hooks.
- 9 Blue Lakes
A series of lakes located south of the Tahoe Basin, 12 miles off of Highway 88. At over 8,000 feet they are some of the highest lakes accessible by automobile. Camping is available nearby. Fishing is reported to be good off of the dams where the two lakes connect.

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE : HIKING TRAILS

Trail	Difficulty	Elevation	Mileage (one way)
Echo Lakes Trail Head	Multiple Trails: Easy, Moderate and Difficult	7420' / 8430'	2.5 to 9.3 miles

Directions to Trail head: Take Highway 50 to Echo Summit and turn onto Johnson Pass Road. Stay left and the road will lead you to the parking area by Lower Echo Lake.

Trail : Many different hikes can be taken from this trail head. For a short walk, hike to the far end of Upper Echo Lake. Many longer hike options await you farther down the trail!

Attractions and Considerations : A boat taxi operated in the summer by Echo Lakes Resort cuts three miles off your trip. A nominal fee is charged for this service. Contact the Echo Lakes Chalet for more information: (530) 659-7207. A wilderness permit is required. Day hikers, pick up your permit at the self serve area at the trail head. Overnight hikers will need an overnight permit for Desolation Wilderness. This permit must be purchased before you get to the Echo Lakes Trail head.

Other Trial heads: Upper Echo Lake: 2.5 miles / Tamarack Lake 3.8 miles / Triangle Lake (northbound trail) 4.2 miles / Triangle Lake (eastbound trail) 5.4 miles / Ralston and Cragwin Lakes 4.2 miles / Haypress Meadows 4.2 miles / Echo Peak 8.1 miles / Lake Margery 5.1 miles / Lake Lucille 5.2 miles / Lake of the Woods 5.3 miles / Lake Aloha 6.1 miles / Lake LeConte 6.7 miles / Lake Aloha (northeast corner) 7.5 miles / Clyde Lake 9.3 miles / Ralston Peak 6.9 miles / Ropi Lake 7.0 miles

Trail	Difficulty	Elevation	Mileage (one way)
Moraine Trail	Easy	6360' / 6410'	1 miles

Directions to Trail head: Take Highway 89 north approximately 3 miles from South Lake Tahoe to Fallen Leaf Lake Road. Continue approximately 2/3 of a mile to Fallen Leaf Campground. Drive through the campground and park just before campsite #75 on the right. There is no fee for day use. In the winter, when the campground is closed, you must park just beyond Fallen Leaf Campground off of Fallen Leaf Lake Road and walk to the trail head.

Trail : Look for the trail head sign near the parking area.

Attractions and Considerations : Stroll along a relatively flat trail through the forest and along the shore of picturesque Fallen Leaf Lake.

Useful Map Information : USDA Forest Service map: Lake Tahoe Basin Mgmt. Unit: R.17 E. T. 12 N.

Trail	Difficulty	Elevation	Mileage (one way)
Tallac Historic Site	Easy, Handicap accessible	Flat	0.3 miles

Directions to Trail head: Take Highway 89 north approximately 3 miles from South Lake Tahoe. Turn into either the Tallac Historic Site or Visitor Center Parking lots.

Trail : The trail begins from the Kiva Picnic Area or the site can also be reached from the Lake of the Sky Trail that begins at the Lake Tahoe Visitor Center.

Attractions and Considerations : The Tallac Historic Site grounds and the trails from the Kiva Area and Visitor Center are accessible to persons with disabilities. Dogs must be on a leash at all times.

Useful Map Information : USDA Forest Service map: Lake Tahoe Basin Mgmt. Unit: R.17 E. T. 12 N.

Trail	Difficulty	Elevation	Mileage (one way)
Glen Alpine Trail head	Multiple Trails: Moderate and Difficult	Varies by route	2 to 6 miles

Directions to Trail head: Take Highway 89 north approximately 3 miles from South Lake Tahoe to Fallen Leaf Lake Road. Watch for bicyclists and other cars on this narrow, one-lane road. Continue until you see the Glen Alpine trail head sign and turn left. Trail head parking is across from Lily Lake.

Trail : Many different hikes can be taken from this trail head. For a short walk, take the southern spur 3 miles to Grass Lake or stretch the hike to 6 miles all the way to Lake Aloha. This spur leads you past a small waterfall, a beautiful meadow and three alpine lakes. Another moderate spur takes you to Half Moon or Alta Morris Lakes. A third spur takes you to Gilmore Lake and then on to Dicks Pass. Or, at Gilmore Lake, you can head up Mt. Tallac. The Glen Alpine Trail head offers a more moderate approach to the strenuous hike up Mt. Tallac, Lake Tahoe's signature peak.

Attractions and Considerations : A wilderness permit is required. Day hikers, pick up your permit at the self serve area at the trail head. Overnight hikers will need an overnight permit for Desolation Wilderness. This permit must be purchased before you get to the Glen Alpine Trail head.

Other Trial heads: Grass Lake: 2 miles / Susie Lake: 4 miles / Heather Lake: 5 miles / Lake Aloha: 6 miles / Half Moon Lake: 5.5 miles / Alta Morris Lake: 5.5 miles / Gilmore Lake: 3.9 miles / Dicks Pass: 5.4 miles / Mt. Tallac: 5.7 miles

Trail	Difficulty	Elevation	Mileage (one way)
Mt. Tallac Trail Head	Multiple Trails:	6480' / 9735'	1.7 to 5 miles

Easy, Moderate and Difficult

Directions to Trail head: The trail head is located approximately 3-1/2 miles north of South Lake Tahoe on Highway 89. Look for the Mt. Tallac Trail head sign directly across from the entrance to Baldwin Beach. Turn left down the dirt road and continue to the trail head parking.

Trail : The first part of the trail to Floating Island and Cathedral Lakes is easy to moderate and can be enjoyed by the novice hiker. Beyond Cathedral Lake, the trail becomes steep and strenuous as it continues up the front face of Mount Tallac.

Attractions and Considerations : Providing a spectacular view of Fallen Leaf Lake, Lake Tahoe, and Desolation Wilderness, this strenuous hike is well worth the effort. Weather conditions can change rapidly in the Sierra mountains; bring a jacket, carry lots of water and allow plenty of time for your trip. A wilderness permit is required. Day hikers, pick up your permit at the self serve area at the trail head. Overnight hikers will need an overnight permit for Desolation Wilderness. This permit must be purchased before you get to the Mt. Tallac Trail head.

Other Trail heads: Floating Island Lake: 1.7 miles / Cathedral Lake: 2.5 miles / Mt. Tallac: 5 miles

Clark Trail	Difficult	6420'/7470'	0.5 miles

Directions to Trail head: Take Highway 89 north approximately 3 miles from South Lake Tahoe to Fallen Leaf Lake Road. Watch for bicyclists and other cars on this narrow, one-lane road. Continue until you see the Glen Alpine trail head sign and turn left. Trail head parking is across from Lily Lake.

Trail : From the parking area, walk back down the road to the junction of Fallen Leaf Lake Road. Look for the small church to your right. A little post located behind the church marks the hard-to-find trail head.

Attractions and Considerations : For the more adventurous, this strenuous hike can provide some solitude.

Traversing through loose shale up a steep grade, the trail ends at Angora Lakes.

Informative Web site: www.TahoeRimTrail.org

Trail : The Tahoe Rim Trail is a scenic 165 - mile hiking, equestrian, and in designated areas, mountain biking trail circling Lake Tahoe. Generally moderate in difficulty with a 10% average grade, elevations range from 6,300 to 9,400 feet. The USDA Forest Service requires permits in Desolation Wilderness. Protect the beauty of Tahoe, follow low impact wilderness usage. Stay on the trail, carry out all trash, camp at least 100 feet from lakes and streams and don't use soap near water sources. Water should be boiled or filtered to insure your safety.

Attractions and Considerations : This 165-mile, twenty-four inch, single-track trail is open to hiking, equestrians, and mountain biking (in most areas). The trail encompasses the ridge tops of the Lake Tahoe Basin, crossing six counties, and two states. The Tahoe Rim Trail overlaps with approximately fifty miles of the Pacific Crest National Scenic Trail. This a trail seekers dream with endless views, peaceful mountain setting and the amazing beauty that that make the Lake Tahoe Rim Trail a unique experience.
